STATE COURT SAYS SMITH TO DIE IN CHAIR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's Supreme Court today upheld the death sentence imposed on Elmo Smith, a 40-year-old Bridgeport handyman convicted of the rape-murder of a Philadelphia schoolgirl.

Smith was found guilty of first degree murder for the slaying of Maryann Mitchell, 16, who was seized on a street in Philadelphia as she was returning home from a motion picture.

Her battered body was found two days later in an isolated gulch in Whittemarsh Township, Montgomery County, three days after Christmas, 1959.

"NO POWER TO REVERSE"

Chief Justice John C. Bell wrote the unanimous opinion and said the court "had no power to reverse or reduce the verdict of a jury which has lawfully imposed the penalty of death, on the grounds of abuse of discretion, or because defendant was a moron, or had an irresistible impulse, or was a sexual pervert, or was a criminally inclined psychopath, or for any similar psychotic reasons."

Bell described Smith as a "dangerous potential murderer with a lust for rape and with the brutal instincts and actions of a cave-man."

CONVICTED HERE

Smith carried his appeal against death in the electric chair to the state's highest tribunal on the ground that the jury abused its discretion in failing to give him a life sentence.

It was this argument the high court rejected.

Smith was convicted in Adams County on Sept. 14, 1960. The trial was transferred to Gettysburg from Norristown on defense motions that he would not be able to get a fair and impartial trial in the immediate region where the crime was committed.

Smith at the time of his trial was examined by four psychiatrists, all of whom agreed he was sane at the time he committed the crime.

Boy, 13, Rescues Two Brothers From Drowning

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP) — Stephen Lyon, 13, inched out on the ice of Montaukett River toward a hole 10 feet from shore where brothers David and Mark Barry struggled in the water.

Carefully Stephen extended a hand, seized Mark, 8, and lifted him to firm ice. A moment later he hauled David, 11, to safety.

The three boys had been coasting on the ninth fairway at the Braitree Municipal Club. Mark's sled coasted onto the ice at the bottom of the hill and dropped into the hole. As the younger brother clung to the edge of the ice, David went to his aid and slipped in, too.

1961 SNOWIEST YEAR IN LOCAL WEATHER BOOK

The 10 inches of snow that fell in Gettysburg last month made 1961 the snowiest year in Gettysburg weather annals.

There were heat and cold records set and some months were very wet and other very dry but average temperatures and total rainfall came out close enough to the mythical "normal" to make the year undistinguished in any respect except that it got more snow than any 12-month period since continuous weather records were begun here in 1903.

Snows last year totaled 66.2 inches, the first time any year ever has seen more than five feet of snow here.

HEAVIEST IN JANUARY

The nearest approaches to the 1961 mark came in 1914 when the snowfall total was 58.9 inches; in 1906 when the total was 58.2 inches and in 1917 when the snows measured 57 inches.

The greatest amount of snow fell in January when 23 inches were measured. February was a close second with 22.7 inches and both months saw below zero temperatures. There was only an inch and a half of snow in March but April added six inches. There were three more inches in November and the 10 in December set the new record.

The snows in 1960 totaled 46.3 inches and made that year the snowiest here since 1924 but 1961 left it far behind. Snowfall totals in recent years follow: 1961, 66.2 inches; 1960, 46.3 inches; 1959, 18.6 inches; 1958, 32 inches; 1957, 21.2 inches; 1956, 16.2 inches; 1955, 17.5 inches; 1954, 12.9 inches; 1953, 19.3 inches; 1952, 12.7 inches; 1951, 21.7 inches, and 1950, 11.5.

Six months last year had more than normal precipitation and the Late Spurt In Holiday Accidents Tops Estimate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic 335
Fires 83
Miscellaneous 59
Total 477

A sharp spurt of accidents in the final hours of the New Year's holiday pushed the final toll of traffic deaths beyond the National Safety Council's preholiday estimate.

At midnight Monday, when the three-day holiday period ended, the count of traffic fatalities stood at 335. In addition, there were 83 deaths resulting from fires, a record for a New Year period since World War II, and 59 deaths attributed to miscellaneous accidents. The over-all toll from traffic, fires and miscellaneous causes was 477.

ESTIMATED 330

The National Safety Council, which had estimated that 330 persons might be killed in traffic accidents during the extended week-end, earlier had hoped that the toll might be a record low for the three-day New Year period.

The record low of 269 highway fatalities was set in the 1949-1950 New Year period. The record traffic toll for a three-day New Year period is 374, set in 1959-60.

In the three-day 1960-61 New Year celebration, there were 338 traffic deaths, 66 perished in fires and 78 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 482.

Traffic deaths totaled 524 in the recent three-day Christmas week-end, while 83 persons died in fires and 86 others in miscellaneous accidents, an over-all toll of 693.

The previous record of fire deaths for a New Year period since World War II was 74, set during the 1955-56 three-day celebration.

Revolutionary Uprising In Portugal Nipped Quickly

BEJA, Portugal (AP)—The hunt was on today for political associates of a rebel leader who tried unsuccessfully to seize a military barracks and touch off a revolution against Premier Antonio Salazar's government.

Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, 37, an army officer turned politician, lay near death in the Beja hospital. Manuel Serra, a former Roman Catholic youth leader who authorities said shared leadership of the uprising with Gomes, was captured while heading for the Spanish border with four heavily armed companions.

NOTABLE CASUALTY

Between 40 and 50 persons, most of them workers, apparently were in the hand that engaged Salazar's troops in a three-hour gun battle Monday at the barracks of the 3rd Infantry regiment. Officials at first announced all had been killed or captured.

But so far the government has announced only one rebel killed, two wounded and 20 others captured. It appeared some might still be at large, although the rebel casualties were believed to have been much higher than the government said.

Most notable casualty on the government side was Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, undersecretary for war who rushed to the southern city of Beja from Lisbon. He ordered the government forces to hold their fire and then walked into the barracks to demand that the rebels surrender. They shot him down. He died later in the hospital.

TIGHTEN SECURITY

The government tightened security precautions by placing all police and military units in a "state of prevention." There was no general alert, but a huge Lisbon rally scheduled for Wednesday night was canceled, officially in mourning for Da Fonseca.

Salazar was to have addressed the rally to outline Portuguese policy for 1962 following a year of painful and embarrassing setbacks ranging from the seizure of the liner Santa Maria on the high seas to the Indian seizure of Goa.

The ill-fated uprising began in the sleepy New Year's morning. Witnesses said the rebels burst past the guardpost at the barracks, smashed into the officers' quarters and overcame the drowsy men. Two junior officers managed to escape to another strong point in the barracks and sounded the alarm.

The rebels were pinned down in the officers' quarters by machine-gun fire but could not be dislodged. Then Da Fonseca arrived and tried to arrange a surrender, at the cost of his own life.

The shooting of the undersecretary for war aroused the loyal troops and panicked the rebels. A number attempted to escape by seizing army vehicles and driving from the barracks. All were captured, and resistance crumbled.

Files Answer In Assumpsit Action

The Gettysburg National Bank, administrator of the estate of Daniel W. Durkin, late owner of Gettysburg Motors, today filed an answer to the assumpsit action brought against it by Elizabeth C. Bream, executrix of the will of Glenn C. Bream.

Mrs. Bream, for herself as executrix and the other holders of stock in Gettysburg Motors at the time of its sale to Durkin, had asked in the assumpsit action that the bank as executor turn over to the prior owners an amount held in escrow as part of the sale.

In its answer, filed in the prothonotary's office by Attorney John MacPhail for the bank, the bank noted that the escrow agreement provides only that it pay the amount on written notice by Durkin or his attorneys and held that since it has not received such notice it cannot make the payment.

FIVE COUNTY

by way of the emergency fire door from the vault unseen by anyone in the register's office who could prevent it.

The court noted that there are some who would likely take records from the vault holding that "there was a lady who threatened to sue the entire county a few years ago when she was refused permission to remove the records." The court then suggested that an alarm could be fastened to the emergency door which would sound in the register's office in event anyone opened the emergency exit. Engineer Plank said such an alarm system could be installed at relatively little cost.

No action was taken immediately by the court to accept or reject the proposal.

COMPUL STOCK DELIVERY

Two divorces were granted by the court: To Madeline Virginia (Pensinger) Sheaffer, Biglerville R. 1, from Robert Lee Sheaffer, also of Biglerville R. 1, and to Anna Mary (Cuthall) Keefe, Biglerville R. 2, from Ellsworth Keefe, Fort Littleton.

The court handed down an opinion in the petition to compel delivery of stock certificates brought by the estate of J. Nelson McDonald, late of Oxford Twp. The matter pertained to 500 shares of Continental Copper and Steel Corporation owned by the late Mr. McDonald, which were in possession of Miriam Carbaugh, a nurse at the Brethren Home, Cross Keys, where McDonald had been a guest. Mrs. Carbaugh had claimed that Mr. McDonald had given her the shares of stock.

During the latter years of McDonald's life, Mrs. Carbaugh had, on her own time and not as part of her duties at the home, driven him to various places, acted as his agent with power of attorney and generally looked after his interests at his request. The court held however that under the law as recipient of the 500 shares of stock she was not permitted to testify as to the gift and, since no one else was given her, there was no testimony to show a gift of the stock certificates by the decedent. As a result, the court ordered the stock turned over to Mrs. Agnes Jones, executrix of McDonald's will.

ACCOUNTS APPROVED

Six accounts were approved by the court. The estates and amounts for distribution were John R. Wisler, executor of the will of Hiram H. Thomas, late of Reading Twp., $5,374.61; Gettysburg National Bank, executor of the estate of Stella A. Williams, late of Gettysburg, $12,163.80; Gettysburg National Bank, administrator of the estate of Susan E. Biesecker, late of Gettysburg, $1,719.91; Ruthetta M. Mowery and William C. Bortner, administrators of the estate of Mira A. Bortner, late of Conewago Twp., $340.06; Littlestown National Bank, executor of the estate of Oliver C. Cluck, late of Union Twp., $25,825.46; Alice L. Billerbeck, administratrix of the estate of Frederick J. Wendler, late of Oxford Twp., nothing.

Tshombe Admits Losing A North Katanga Stronghold

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has conceded the loss of the north Katanga stronghold of Kongo to troops of the central Congolese government but claims his forces have beaten off Congolese attacks at Kaponia, south of Baudouinville.

Tshombe charged at a news conference Monday in Elisabethville that 13,000 Congolese troops advancing on Kongo had murdered hundreds of civilians and burned villages.

He claimed that the Congolese abandoned heavy equipment and fled in the face of strong Katangan resistance at Kaponia. The secessionist leader said both sides suffered heavy casualties there, asserting that most Katangan casualties involved civilians.

Tshombe also declared that he has rejected an order by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu that the Katanga Assembly convene Wednesday in Kamina under U.N. protection.

He said he had informed the U.N. Command in Elisabethville that the order for the Assembly to meet and ratify Tshombe's Kitona unity agreement with Premier Cyrille Adoula was "contrary and in direct violation of the Congo constitution" and "an abuse of power."

Tshombe has summoned the assembly to meet in Elisabethville tomorrow to discuss the Kitona agreement. But he said he was no longer sure the meeting would be held on schedule.

The U.N. Command announced that Bashi tribesmen in Kivu Province had killed at least 12 of their tribal enemies while trying to elect a new chief.

A U.N. spokesman said a Malayan patrol halted the bloodshed but that reports from the patrol indicated the death toll may actually be much higher. The U.N. spokesman was unable to say whether the chief had been elected.

State police listed the four as Charles E. "Skip" Gladfelter, 29, Hanover R. 5; his nephew, Mervin L. Gladfelter, 18, Hanover R. 5; Lloyd E. Overlay, 37, Ocoee, Fla., and Hanover R. 5, and Harry Philip Null, 18, Hanover.

The officers said Charles Gladfelter and Overlay entered innocent pleas to the charges against them before Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson while Mervin Gladfelter and Null entered pleas of guilty to the charges. All were charged by state police with burglary and larceny and receiving stolen goods.

According to the officers the charges are based on a burglary of the Green Springs Rod and Gun Club in which beer, candy and food valued at $29.50 were taken.

Null was arrested Friday afternoon and the other three on Saturday. All were placed in jail in default of bail after appearing before the justice.

New Year's

More than 6 inches of snow hit Atlantic City, N.J., during the night but smaller amounts were reported north and south of the Atlantic Ocean resort. Snowfalls measured 4 to 8 inches in western sections of the Carolinas. Rain fell along coastal areas, with some sleet and gusty northerly winds as the storm moved northward.

Fog snarled air transportation in Washington over the New Year holiday period and again blanketed coastal areas of Northern California.

six others were short on rain. The year ended with a total of 39.62 inches of precipitation which is 1.96 inches short of normal. Last year's total was less than 1960's 42.78 inches.

Six months last year had above normal temperatures and six were below normal but that year's average temperature of 52.74 degrees was 1.26 degree below normal.

So last year was "cool" and "dry" when compared with long range "normal" figures. The year 1960 had been "cool and wet" while 1959 was "warm and dry."

EXTREME COLD

One factor that tended to keep the year's average temperatures below normal was the fact that the cold in 1961 was more extreme than the heat. In both January and February the mercury dipped to seven below zero but the temperature climbed to 95 degrees only one day last year, July 23.

Gettysburg has seen more cold than heat records set in recent years. December of 1960 with a low of nine below zero was the coldest day here since December of 1942. Temperatures have not reached 100 degrees here in more than four years. The last 100-degree heat was recorded in Gettysburg on July 21, 1957.

Last year was only the third in the last 11 years with below-normal temperatures.

LONG GROWING SEASON

The growing season last year was longer than average. The span between the last frost in the spring and the first in the fall was 189 days. In 1960 it was 193 days and that was not far short of the record 198 days set in 1955. In 1956 there were only 127 growing days, one of the shortest spans in recent years.

December closed on an icy note with a low reading of seven above zero. Average temperatures last month were 31.95 degrees, just a shade below freezing and 2.45 degrees below normal for the month. It was much less frigid, however, than December of 1960 when the mercury sank to nine below zero and the month's average was only 25.5 degrees, making it the coldest December on record here.

The warmest day last month was 57 on the afternoon of December 4. December 30 was the coldest day with a low of five above zero. There were seven days last month when the mercury never got above the freezing mark and freezing temperatures were recorded on all but three days of the month.

There were 12 days with measurable amounts of rain or snow and precipitation totaled 3.3 inches. That is 0.35 inches above normal for the month. Sleet, glaze, drifting snow and fog were some of the difficult weather conditions encountered here last month.

COUNTY GIRLS HURT IN CRASH

Two persons suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident in Hanover Saturday at 12:55 a.m., Hanover police reported. Patricia Stambaugh, 21, New Oxford R. 2, identified by police as an operator of one of the vehicles, suffered a contusion of the knee and Yvonne Smith, 20, of 505 Delone Ave., McSherrystown, suffered a bump of the head.

According to police, an auto operated by Edward L. Utz, 22, Hanover R. 1, was traveling west on Middle St., and while attempting to cross Baltimore St., was involved in collision with the Stambaugh auto and a pickup truck operated by James S. Bowersox, 39, Hanover. Both vehicles were traveling north on Baltimore St.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the Utz auto, $100 to the Stambaugh vehicle and $50 to the truck, police said.

No one was injured in another mishap which occurred in Hanover Friday, at 10:45 a.m. Police said autos operated by Dennis R. G. Wetzel, 46, Hanover and Charles W. Topper Jr., 19, New Oxford R. 3, were involved in collision. Damage was estimated at a total of $95.

of the prior wreck two miles south of here to permit some of the passengers of the wrecked Miller car to disembark.

Aldie Lee Cocker, 33, Grey Court R. 1, S. C., also driving south, stopped his car behind the Price vehicle. Then, police said, another southbound auto, operated by Willie James Daniels, 28, Syracuse, N. Y., crashed into the rear of the Cocker car, driving it into the Price vehicle. Damage was estimated at $25 to the Price car, $1,000 to the Daniels' sedan and $500 to Cocker's auto. No one was reported injured.

HIT-RUN CRASH

Sunday morning at 3 o'clock police were summoned to Arendtsville where a car owned by J. Richard Cogley, 44, Arendtsville, parked on Conewago St. near Fohl St., was struck by a passing car which continued on without stopping. Damage to Cogley's auto was estimated at $90.

Gettysburg borough police were called Sunday morning at 9:50 o'clock to investigate an accident at the intersection of S. Stratton and E. Middle Sts. Police said Richard L. Shelleman, Fairfield, attempted to turn into Stratton St. from Middle St. His car skidded and struck a parked car owned by Donald and Grace Sheely, Gettysburg R. 2. Damage was estimated at $50 to each vehicle.

Bamboo Curtain Countries Unhappy

TOKYO (AP)—All three Communist countries behind Asia's Bamboo Curtain have admitted in New Year's statements that 1961 was a bad year because of "natural calamities" or other difficulties.

The leaders and official organs of Communist China, North Korea and North Viet Nam in New Year's greetings to their people all placed emphasis on domestic problems rather than on international issues. Drought and flood contributed to the domestic difficulties.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Railroad Accident; Death Of One Of The Porter Guards: On Saturday last, as the noon train up was passing Rock Creek bridge, near the camp ground of the Cavalry Regiment, private John Congdon, of Company A, was instantly killed. The sad occurrence resulted from his being at the time on the car platform where his head struck the timbers of the bridge. Congdon was returning from a furlough, intending to rejoin his Regiment here, instead of at Elmira.

Arrival Of The Tenth N. Y. Cavalry: The Tenth Cavalry Regiment of New York Volunteers, under command of Col. Lemmon, arrived here on Wednesday evening, to take up quarters for the winter, in pursuance of an order from Washington. The regiment numbers 776 men, rank and file, for the conveyance of which twenty-four long cars were required. On their arrival (an event which attracted quite a large number of people to the depot), it was found too late to pitch tents and otherwise prepare a camp, and the men therefore remained in the cars during the night.

Hon. Mr. Ely, member of Congress from New York, who was taken prisoner at the battle of Manassas and has been exchanged for Mr. Faulkner, came up in the Old Point boat on Thursday, and went on to Washington. By flags of truce between Old Point and Norfolk, we have late Richmond papers, giving a variety of late and interesting Southern intelligence. The late fight at Drainsville is admitted to have been a serious defeat. One account gives a list of over two hundred killed, wounded and missing. They account for the defeat by magnifying the Federal forces from four thousand, little more than half of whom were engaged, to fifteen thousand, a part of whom they put down as regulars.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Battle Mills: There has been unusual activity with the incoming season for chopping and meal making on Franklin street. Any hour of the day a crowd of teams are to be seen. The farmers to the eastward of Gettysburg find it a great convenience. Important improvements have just been introduced, among them a Coursey Patent Corn and Cob Crusher, which has a capacity fully adequate to feed two sets of chopping burs at once.

Change In Office: Mr. G. L. H. Grammar, the Prothonotary elect, entered upon his duties yesterday morning. The retiring Prothonotary, Samuel A. Smith, Esq., and his most competent and efficient deputy, Mr. Emmanuel M. Ziegler, were both obliging and attentive officers, and could always be found at their official desks. We are glad to hear that Mr. Ziegler will continue in the office for the present.

Fire: On Saturday night, about 10:30, our citizens were alarmed by cries of fire and the ringing of the engine house bell. The fire originated in the smoke-house of Mr. J. Harry Stine, nearly adjoining his residence on East Middle street. The roof was in a blaze and the rear of the house badly scorched, but the flames were discovered so soon and the turn-out so prompt, that they were extinguished before any considerable damage was done. The fire company was quickly on hand and the Silsby ready for action; but buckets had done the work and it was not necessary to use the engine.

The ice pond of Mr. Ephraim H. Minnigh, at the west end of W. Middle street, has been a complete success.

Today's Talk

EMPTY HOURS

There is nothing that so contributes to unhappiness and discontent as hours flung at you with you unprepared to climb into them and ride them to their end.

Empty hours cause more heart-aches than anything else.

We are always least unhappy when busy. And we are most happy when we are working toward some object of happiness for someone else.

Restless people are those with nothing definite and useful to do. Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote that the entry of a happy person into a room was "as though another candle had been lighted."

When you put happiness into an otherwise empty hour, you place another star in the blue sky. You get close to heaven. And God steals behind you and whispers His love into your heart.

Costly gifts don't furnish a heart. Any more than they do a house. Simple beauty poured into empty hours make them solid gold.

When you are alone and can reach to the shelves of memory, where beautiful words and deeds are stored, then you have learned one of the great arts of living.

There is so much to put into all hours that none should be allowed to escape empty and neglected.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Rare People"

Just Folks

A NONMECHANIC OBJECT

I almost never lift the hood

Which hides my motor strong;

To look at it would do no good.

If anything goes wrong,

'Twould be no use for me to sigh

Or in that chamber dark to pry;

No use for me to gaze at springs

And cams and gears and wheels

And things.

If they won't run, I lack the art

To recognize the faulty part.

I only know that when I press

The starting lever something moves,

And given petrol, more or less,

The speed decreases or improves.

But when that starting thing I've struck

And nothing happens, I am stuck!

I've thought, as others do, I should

Step forward and remove the hood;

But though I gazed from nine to three

That motor dead still dead

would be.

The jeweler does not expect

That I my watch shall mend,

Or if I find it incorrect

Some tiny spring shall bend;

And no one thinks I ought to know

Just how to make that timepiece

go.

But if by chance my car breaks down

I'm giggled at by all the town,

And called a fool, because I can't

Myself repair a power plant.

She is survived by two sons, Ralph, of Brook, and Albert, Kokomo, and a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Morgan, Kentland; two brothers, Walter and Earl Sell, Brook, Ind. Burial was on Friday in Brook, Ind.

HOLD PREPARATORY

The midwinter preparatory service was held on Sunday morning in Christ United Church of Christ, when the ushers were Ralph L. Snyder, Allen E. Hahn, Irvin C. Markle, Louis E. Hilker, Richard E. Weikert, David G. Reigle, Ray F. Slaybaugh and Howard R. Clapper. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. The choir sang the anthem "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day," with Mrs. Paul J. Mummert as soloist.

The bulletins were given in memory of F. S. Markle and Mrs. Sarah E. Markle by the children. The altar flowers were presented by the Altar Guild. The Women's Guild placed a rosebud on the altar in honor of Cynthia Ann Lemmon, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Lemmon. It While no symptoms of rabies have as yet developed, a number of valuable dogs have been shot. Chief Burgess William H. Ghost Will Not Stay Down: The ghost of Jack Kavanaugh, who was burned to death in his cabin near White Pine Sanitarium, Mont Alto, as most people believe, will not stay down.

Stories that he had been killed and robbed and his hut afterward burned were afloat. Now comes a tale that Kavanaugh is not dead. A Mr. Stoner is alleged to have seen him Tuesday. Of course some provision has to be made for the dead body in the cabin and it was said, to accommodate this, that it was another fellow and not Kavanaugh who was burned.

Big Kill Of Buck Deer: Pennsylvania's kill of buck deer in 1961 will probably be exceeded by the kill of the year just closed, when the reports are all in, according to estimates made by men who follow up the hunting records of the state. Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, says he will not make an estimate until all reports are in hand, but says the record is going to be a big one.

Fled In Their Night Clothes: Awakened by smoke and flames which were rapidly pouring through their home in Huntingtown township Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sadler and their two-year-old daughter were compelled to flee on their night clothing about three o'clock this morning while their home and all its contents burned to the ground.

STATE ROADS GET MORE AID

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some $410 million would be poured into highway construction and maintenance in Pennsylvania under the new 1962-63 motor license fund budget presented by Gov. Lawrence today to the 1962 legislature.

The money—part of $490,051,484 recommended for the fund—would allow the State Highways Department "to move forward with the greatest construction and maintenance program in state history," the governor predicted in his budget message.

The motor license budget is "$34,128,940 higher than that of the 1961-62 fiscal year. It does not require legislative approval.

Ninety-six million dollars would be used for interstate roads. Of this total, the state would pay $8.7 million and the federal government $87.3 million under the federal aid acts of 1956 and 1958 calling for the federal government to finance 90 per cent of all interstate roads and the state the other 10 per cent.

Another big chunk from the budget would be the $80 million proposed for construction of roads and bridges in the state highway system. Only state funds are used in this program.

In a further breakdown, Lawrence said $29.5 million would go for primary roads, $18.5 million for secondary roads and $20.2 million for urban roads with the state and federal government sharing the costs.

22 Are Arrested In Kissing Melee

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were ordered to appear in municipal court today, charged with taking part in a wild New Year's riot that began with stolen kisses and ended in a fog of tear gas and water from fire hoses.

Police Capt. Robert Peel said the 22 were taken on assorted charges from inciting riot to creating a disturbance. In addition, he said, 16 servicemen arrested were turned over to military authorities for disciplinary action.

At least 30 persons were injured, none seriously.

The riot began when officers arrested several youths who were stopping cars and kissing the women occupants. Jeering crowds attacked a police car and hurled liquor bottles and glasses for two hours before tear gas and fire hoses dispersed them. About 1,000 persons were involved.

Kennedy And Defense Heads Confer Today

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy holds policy-framing conferences today with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and top defense officials.

The vice president was scheduled to arrive in early afternoon from Johnson City, Tex. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's personal military adviser, were also due here for a later afternoon meeting on the nation's security status.

From all appearances, they intend to go over the preparedness situation which Kennedy has depicted as giving the West an overall edge on the Communists.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting would not directly concern the defense budget, which is likely to absorb more than half the President's anticipated $92-billion spending proposals for 1962-63.

Neither, Salinger said, was it called to make a decision on whether the United States needs to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

FATHER IMPROVES

The discussions will continue Wednesday after the arrival of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The entire Kennedy family was heartened by word that the head of the clan, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, is making such improvement from his stroke that he was able to leave his hospital bed for a short period in a wheel chair. The President and other members of the family visited the elder Kennedy Monday at St. Mary's hospital in neighboring West Palm Beach.

The chief executive spent a quiet New Year's Day, cheated by foul weather from his usual cruise on Lake Worth.

BROTHER REPORTS

He made public a report from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy claiming significant advances in the government's war on the underworld. The attorney general, summarizing 1961 activities by federal crimebusters, said laws passed during the year could be thanked for much of the progress.

Without being specific, he said the Justice Department could use additional legislation to fight racketeers, gamblers and hoodlums.

Tonight the South Penn Basketball League opens its final season with a pair of games, Gettysburg High entertaining Hanover here while Biglerville meets unbeaten Carlisle on the latter's floor. The fifth member, Chambersburg, engaged in its initial league game on January 9 when it entertains Biglerville.

At the finish of the basketball season the South Penn Conference concludes its historic existence.

George Forney's Warriors took the league title a year ago but are not considered as a serious contender for the championship this season. Forney lost his entire varsity from a year ago, plus several jayvee members who would have made strong bids for varsity berths.

So far the Warriors have a 1-4 record. While they lack height and experience, the current squad has shown itself to be one of the scrappiest and may turn in a few surprises along the way.

Hanover, expected to be another also-ran, has a preleague record of 2-6. There are three letter winners from last season, Lynn Reck 6-2, Jim Grove 6-2, and Jack Shafer 5-10, all seniors. Coach Fred Kreuter is carrying a 15-man squad including six seniors and nine juniors.

TOP CONTENDERS

Carlisle and Chambersburg are picked to be the top contenders for championship honors.

Gene Evans' Carlisle quintet is unbeaten with a string of eight straight victories. Despite losing five of his regulars from last year, Evans has four lettermen, Barry Debolt 6-1 and Dave Lebo 6-4, both starters, and Doug Boornshien 5-11 and Benny Breneman 5-8, first line replacements last year.

Chambersburg, with a winning streak of four straight, has upped its preleague mark to 5-2, its losses being to Altoona and York. Lowell Schlichter, Trojan coach, has a returning squad of seven lettermen with good height. They are Jeff Faust 6-1, George Banks 6-3, Gary Martin 6-5, Paul Mills 6-1, Jack Mull 5-8, Carl Watson 5-11, and Carl Walter 5-10.

Biglerville, 2-4, is another outfit which has not shown enough to warrant title consideration although Coach Bernie Thrush's squad appears to be improving following a pair of victories after losing their first four contests.

Junior varsity games will precede varsity clashes tonight at 6:45.

A-F ACTION TONIGHT

A pair of games will also be played tonight in the Adams-Franklin League, Bermudian invading Quincy while Greencastle plays at James Buchanan. Three more games will be played Wednesday evening, Littleton playing at Scotland, Fairfield at New Oxford, and St. Thomas at Fannet-Metal.

Two additional leagues have openers scheduled for Friday night. Gettysburg Junior High hosts Carlisle in a South Penn Junior High League game. Delone Catholic (5-2) is at Lancaster Catholic for its opening Central Penn Catholic League fracas.

PACKERS TAKE NFL TITLE IN 37-0 TRIUMPH

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The National Football League champion Green Bay Packers settled down today, protected against a long, cold winter by the glow of success—their resounding 37-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

The Packers also were snug in the high temperatures of prosperity, their individual shares of $5,195.44 from the receipts of Sunday's game. They agreed it was great to do business with the Giants.

So did the players' wives, wrapped in the warmth of mink stoles presented by the Green Bay management when the club won the Western Division title a month ago, also by beating the Giants.

SEVENTH CROWN

The new crown is the seventh championship for the Packers and the first won at home since the club entered the league as a charter member in 1921.

The title was the first for Green Bay since beating the Giants in New York in 1944, and it was the climax of a complete rebuilding begun three years ago when Vince Lombardi quit as a Giant assistant coach to become coach and general manager of the Packers.

The conquest came on a combination of a battering Packer defense that created opportunities and a sparkling offense that cashed in on them.

STARR AND HORNUNG

The Packer defensive unit held the New York Giants to 31 yards rushing, 119 in the air and six first downs. The defensive corps grabbed four Giant passes and recovered one New York fumble.

The Packer offense, directed by quarterback Bart Starr and sparked by halfback Paul Hornung, did the rest.

Starr's play calling produced 19 first downs, gained 181 yards on the ground and 164 in the air. Starr passed for three touchdowns, and when his passes were not wrecking the Giants, Hornung was running through big holes in the New York line.

$3,339 EACH

Hornung, on leave from his jeep-driving chores with the Army at Ft. Riley, Kan., carried the burden of the ground attack.

Hornung, the league's most valuable player in the past season and its scoring leader for the past three years, carried 20 times for 89 yards. He scored 19 points, setting an individual title game record. He scored one touchdown, booted four extra points and kicked three field goals to break the mark of 18 set by Cleveland's Otto Graham in the 1954 game with Detroit.

Each Giant received $3,339.99 as his share of the gate.

DIETZEL MAY TAKE ARMY JOB

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—While Coach Paul Dietzel ponders an offer to rescue Army football, speculation grows today he will leave his Louisiana State powerhouse and answer the call from West Point.

After LSU defeated Colorado 25-7 in the Orange Bowl, Monday, Dietzel retained his poise and remained noncommittal in a shower of pressure from all sides.

"Concerning my move to Army, I put it out of my mind until this game was over," the 37-year-old ex-Army assistant said. "Now I'll give it my full consideration. I have no further comment."

If Dietzel makes the move as suspected, he is in no position to be definite. First, the West Point Superintendent, Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, will announce the successor to Dale Hall—fired Dec. 9—which he hopes to do this week.

Second, LSU officials say Dietzel has not requested release from his $18,500 a year contract which still has four years to run.

Dietzel persistently refused to admit he had received a direct offer from Army, but most everyone else felt he had.

CHARGERS SIGN ALWORTH WHO REJECTED NFL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The rest of the American Football League may not be faring well in its fight with the rival National Football League for the top collegiate players, but the San Diego Chargers are more than holding their own.

Charger end Coach Al Davis handed Arkansas halfback Lance Alworth a contract under a goal post at the end of the Sugar Bowl game between Arkansas and Alabama Monday.

Alworth immediately signed it. A few yards away, Coach Red Hickey of the NFL's San Francisco 49ers, looked dejected. He had reached Alworth first as the 178-pound halfback walked off the field. The 49ers picked Alworth in the first round of the NFL draft.

SECOND AFL WIN

Alworth, a Brookhaven, Miss., product, said he picked San Diego because "The AFL is a new league. I'll have a chance to grow with it."

He became the second No. 1 choice of the NFL to be signed by the Chargers, who two weeks ago got Kansas Quarterback John Hadl—Detroit's selection. Hadl was picked the outstanding player in Saturday's East-West game at San Francisco.

Otherwise, the NFL has signed seven of its first round selections—headed by Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis of Syracuse, who went to Cleveland, after the Browns obtained rights to him from Washington.

LOTS OF SWAPPING

The jubilant Al Davis said terms of the contract wouldn't be released.

"It was very respectable. That's all I can say," said the 32-year-old Charger assistant.

Alworth was Oakland's second choice in the AFL player draft, but Davis said the Chargers "swapped several players" for the speedy player.

In Oakland, Raider General Manager Wes Fry said his team got four Chargers for rights to Alworth. He said Oakland has decided on two, but hasn't picked the others and did not announce any names.

Chicago Takes Over 4th Place In NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks held down sole possession of fourth place in the National Hockey League today, thanks to goalie Glenn Hall.

The Hawks blanked the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Monday night with Hall kicking out 32 blasts at his net. It marked the fourth shutout of the year for the 30-year-old goalie and was by far his most impressive.

The victory snapped a string of four straight ties for the Hawks and enabled them to edge ahead of the idle Detroit Red Wings in their battle for fourth.

In the other game, the New York Rangers turned back the last place Boston Bruins 4-2.

Track Mentor To Coach In Thailand

BANGKOK (AP)—Gordon Fisher, Indiana University track coach, is scheduled to arrive Wednesday to start training Thailand's track and field team for the Asian Games to be held in Jakarta next August.

A U.S. Embassy announcement said Fisher will replace Olympic medal winner Charley Jenkins who coached the Thais for the recent Southeast Asia Peninsular Games in Rangoon last month, under the embassy's American specialist program.

Fisher will be making his third trip to Thailand under the program. He served as coach here in 1959 and 1960.

Art Market Wins San Gabriel Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Art Market won his second victory in four days Monday at Santa Anita and this one really counted.

J.J. Fendrick's 4-year-old son of To Market captured the $28,250 San Gabriel Handicap before a crowd of 42,699. He won in a blanket finish, beating Grey Eagle by a nose and The Axe 2nd by a head. The mile and one-eighth was run in 1:48 2-5.

Last Thursday Art Market beat Micarlo by a half length in the Seattle World's Fair purse. But the stewards disqualified him for lunging in near the wire and placed him second. For failure to keep Art Market straight, jockey Willie Shoemaker is sitting out a suspension. Ismael Valenzuela was aboard the winner Monday and he gave him a fine ride.

400 RIOT IN MONTREAL JAIL ON NEW YEAR'S

MONTREAL (AP)—More trouble was feared today from 400 prisoners who rioted and battled police for four hours in Montreal's Bordeaux jail.

The men spent the night in cells of two unheated, water-logged wings where they were herded finally after their outburst Monday in the dining hall.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert, governor of the jail, said prisoners in a block for persons awaiting trial took part in the rebellion and that "some of them looked drunk—possibly from food balls (barbiturates)."

"The disturbance is far from over," Lambert told newsmen. "We have to get them back in their own cells yet."

FOUR ARE INJURED
He said three prisoners and a fireman manning a water hose were injured, none seriously. The fireman was believed struck by a piece of metal thrown by a prisoner.

Lambert said the rioting started with some grumbling and shouting about 4:30 p.m. which developed into open rebellion as the men were being served a roast beef New Year's dinner.

An electric power failure followed two hours later, knocking out the tower which controls the cell gates. "Without electricity, we could do nothing," Lambert said. "We had no lights or water here for two hours."

About 90 city and provincial police rushed to the jail and entered the prison yard with baseball bats and tear gas. Firemen were forced to run in hoses from outside the jail when water pumps failed to work.

PRISON IS FLOODED
Windows, plumbing, walls and bunks were smashed or ripped in both wings and a foot of water covered the floors.

Firemen doused fires the prisoners set in blankets and mattresses but "we didn't have to use the hoses on men," said prison controller J. A. Pilon. "When they saw the hoses, they got scared. They didn't want to get wet."

Lambert said he didn't know yet what had caused the riot, that "you can't talk to these fellows when they are in revolt." The jail for the past decade has been plagued by rioting prisoners and poor conditions. It houses 750 prisoners.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jerry Giesler, 75, noted criminal lawyer, died Monday of a heart ailment. Giesler, who had suffered a heart ailment since 1959, had represented many movie stars during his nearly 50 years as an attorney. He was born in Wilton Junction, Iowa.

Alabama, Minnesota, LSU And Texas Come Through With Bowl Wins On Jan. 1

By EL CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's convincing Sugar Bowl victory over Arkansas left the Crimson Tide still towering over the field today as the No. 1 college football team in the country.

Alabama's 10-3 decision in New Orleans Monday turned out to be pretty much of a routine job—a rock-ribbed defense and enough offense to keep the enemy off balance.

But if Alabama didn't get much satisfaction out of its Sugar Bowl victory, Minnesota and Texas, two other bowl victors, were walking on air.

GOFFERS WIN

Minnesota defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl 21-3 to make amends for its loss a year ago. The Gophers got in the back door, when Big Ten champion Ohio State declined a bid.

Texas, playing before a home crowd in Dallas in the Cotton Bowl, defeated Mississippi 12-7. Ole Miss was installed as a 3½ point favorite. The Rebels were the only favorite to go down.

Louisiana State polished off Colorado as expected 25-7 in the rain in Miami's Orange Bowl.

NINE HEART ATTACKS

Alabama managed to score only one touchdown, and that is a tribute to Arkansas. It came in the first period when Pat Trammell climaxed a 79-yard march by going over from the 12. The big gain during the drive was a 43-yard jaunt by Mike Fracchia, who shrugged off a broken nose to play.

Tim Davis added a field goal and Mickey Cissell kicked one for Arkansas.

Alabama coach Bear Bryant said he had "nine heart attacks" during the game.

"Arkansas was in better shape than we were and was well prepared for us," he added.

"It was their defense," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "We couldn't move the ball on the ground."

STEPHENS BIG GUN

Minnesota lost last year's Rose Bowl game to Washington, 17-7. This, combined with the fact they had never beaten Mississippi, said Texas Coach Darrell Royal. "This makes up in part for the drubbing they gave us in the Sugar Bowl in 1958."

Mississippi Coach Johnny Vaught said his club was surprised by a man-in-motion series. "We didn't know what to do with it until after the half," he commented gloomily.

EARLY WORRIES

Louisiana State, the heaviest favorite of all four bowl teams, appeared in for trouble at the start. Wendell Harris sent the Bengals in front with a first-period field goal, and they scored two more points on a safety a few minutes later.

Then Colorado fullback Loren Schwenger intercepted a pass and whipped 59 yards to zip the Buffaloes into the lead. It didn't last long, though. Charles Cranford plunged over from the 1, Jimmy Field sprinted 9 yards for another touchdown and Gene Sykes blocked an attempted punt by Huk McBride in the end zone and fell on the ball for a third score.

"I believe we are as good as any team in the country," said LSU Coach Paul Dietzel, who is rumored to be heading for Army. "I don't think the team was as sharp as it was in the regular season when we played a major opponent every week."

Colorado Coach Sonny Grandelius said his club "just made mistakes," and, he added wistfully, "we picked the wrong day to make all our mistakes."

BEARS DEFEAT HORNETS 6-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Hershey Bears had two Willie Marshalls, they probably would be at the head of the American Hockey League today instead of panting along behind the Springfield Indians.

Marshall scored his second three-goal hat trick of the season Monday night and his production spelled the difference in Hershey's 6-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Retired Opera Singer Is Close To Musical Life Of Baltimore Where She Lives

By RAYMOND WISE
BALTIMORE (AP)—How does a prima donna fill a void created by retirement?

Rosa Ponselle, a dramatic soprano who was once the pride of the Metropolitan Opera Company, lives in regal splendor and keeps close to the musical life of the community in which she resides.

Miss Ponselle, discovered by tenor Enrico Caruso before she became the first American-born, American-trained singer signed by the Met, retired in 1938 after a 20-year career as a star performer.

New she lives in a 17-room, $500,000 Italian Renaissance mansion, serves as artistic director of the Baltimore Civic Opera Company and coaches five hand-picked students.

Caught amid preparations for an open house for the benefit of the civic opera, Miss Ponselle bustled from one tapestry-bedecked room to another—with 14 poodles in her wake—and talked about her life.

GETTING IDEAS
"Ideas. We're getting ideas," she remarked. "Every year we try to do something different."

She meant the open house, which involves converting the mansion into a riot of decorations, tableaux, statues and lights. Visitors pay a dollar each, and the proceeds go to the opera company.

"Here, finally, are the draperies," she said, before going off into another room to consult one of the army of artists, interior decorators and friends engaged in the project.

She returned and ordered the poodles out of the house.

"I have too many dogs. Perhaps I shall get rid of some."

BING OF BALTIMORE

Asked about her responsibilities as the opera company's artistic director, the singer replied: "I do the same things Rudolf Bing does at the Met. I have never vetoed a production made by the auditions committee, but I do have that power."

She explained that in addition to having a role in the choice of the company's performers, she also has a part in the selection of its productions.

"This year's schedule calls for six productions, and we're expanding constantly," she said.

The singer, whose art was once described as being "vocal gold," explained that she considers the civic opera an excellent training ground for young singers.

The phone rang. Miss Ponselle picked up the receiver.

"Hello... yes it is... are you the one who aspires to be a singer?... come to me, I will tell you the truth..."

BACK TO PET PROJECT

Later she returned to the subject of the civic opera, apparently her pet project.

"This year for the first time, we are having the Baltimore Symphony accompany our performances. That costs more."

That's all very well, but doesn't the singer miss the thrill of performing herself?

"Of course."

"Traveling?"

"I loathe it."

About teaching, what does she look for in a singer?

"Musicianship, talent, personality, perseverance and dedication. Technique you can always get later."

How long does it take Miss

Ponselle to evaluate a singer's potential?

TELL RIGHT AWAY

"As long as it takes her to open her mouth. I can tell right away."

How?

"That's something you can't put into words."

What about current musical activity in America?

"That's a sensitive subject. Let's say its growing, despite financial difficulties. I think we should have subsidies, like the European countries."

Miss Ponselle, a native of Meriden, Conn., began her career at 14 in her home town, where she provided background music for silent movies.

"You sing in a both with the music in your hand. I got $15 a week, and $3 extra for relieving the theater's pianist."

VAUDEVILLE LATER

That engagement led to a vaudeville stint with her older sister, Carmela. They sang operatic selections in the theaters of New York.

"We wowed them. Three performances a day. They liked sister acts in those days."

The girls' fame spread, and, in the spring of 1918, Caruso heard them sing. After Rosa's performance, the great tenor said to her: "You will sing with me yet."

A contract with the Met followed. In November, Rosa made her debut in Verdi's "La Forza del Destino." She soon made operatic history.

The singer accomplished the transition from vaudeville to grand opera in less than six months, then?

"Yes. I had only seen two operas before the Met signed me."

Now she lives alone — apart from her domestic staff — on a hillside overlooking rolling Green Spring Valley, in suburban Baltimore County. Her marriage ended in divorce in 1950.

"I still have something to impart, and I want to impart it to young people. I live in the hope of finding a pupil so gifted that I will want to name her successor."

Miss Ponselle hasn't found such a pupil yet?

"No."

"GOLDEN 60'S" WALL STREET REALITY NOW

By ED MORSE

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Golden Sixties" became a shining reality for Wall Street in 1961 as stock prices rose on volume of more than a billion shares—great turnover since 1929.

The promised harvest of the sixties — disappointingly delayed by the stock market retreat of 1960 — was an abundant one indeed.

Prices soared to an extent that was alarming to some authorities and their warnings had effect in causing a temporary interruption of the advance. Disconcerting news on the foreign and domestic fronts at times also prompted temporary "corrections" but the upward march continued.

VOLUME TREMENDOUS

As the year ended, prices were not much below their highs and showed signs of resuming the up-beat once more.

The tremendous volume was the big stock market story of 1961.

The New York Stock Exchange reported volume of 1,021,264,589 shares — the biggest since the crash year of 1929 when 1,124,800,410 shares changed hands. The total compared with the 766,693,818 shares traded in 1960.

Dominican Proxy Promises Freedom Of Assemblies

By ROBERT BERRELLE

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Donnelly, president-to-be of the new Dominican Council of State, promised

Dominicans freedom of assembly and discussion Monday and warned the armed forces against interference in the affairs of the new anti-Trujillo government.

Donnelly, named to succeed President Joaquin Balaguer as head of the ruling body, declared at the swearing-in of the seven-man council that freedom to meet and discuss all issues would be observed "because truth can be achieved only through conscientious and dispassionate discussion."

He asserted that the council, which assumed all legislative and executive powers until installation of an elected government early in 1963, wished to emphasize "our decided endeavor to maintain unalterable" the armed forces' non-political status.

The military, he said, must restrict its activities "to the defense of the independence and integrity of the republic, to maintain order and respect for the rights of man."

Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría, chief of the armed forces, who has vowed to support the council, stood behind Donnelly as he spoke. Rodriguez Echavarría led a military move which crushed a coup planned by Trujillo diehards last October and paved the way for the expulsion of the family of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

Sworn in as vice president of the council, Donnelly will take over from Balaguer when the latter resigns, possibly within the week. Balaguer drew up the plan for an interim government and promised to quit when the Organization of American States lifts its economic and diplomatic sanctions against the Dominican Republic.

Following lukewarm approval of the council plan by opposition factions, President Kennedy announced that the United States favored lifting the sanctions imposed against the old Trujillo regime for plotting to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela.

Donnelly represents the National Civic Union, major opposition faction which agreed to give the Balaguer plan a chance after weeks of off-and-on negotiations. Balaguer is a holdover from the Trujillo reign whose efforts to form a transitional government were marked by weeks of rioting and a nationwide general strike.

Personnel Board Named For State

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence appointed Monday two engineering experts, a sociology professor and a redevelopment specialist to Pennsylvania's new High Professional Personnel Board.

The members are Dr. James Creese of Philadelphia, president of the Drexel Institute of Technology; Clifton T. Kent of Camp Hill, executive director of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers; Mayor George R. Walter of Johnstown, a sociology professor at Johnstown College; and Robert B. Pease of Pittsburgh, executive director of the city's Urban Redevelopment Authority.

The board, authorized by the 1961 legislature, is charged with administering the career system for highways technical and professional personnel.

TWIN HAS TRIPLETS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Ebba Cuddy, a twin herself, gave birth to triplet boys Monday.

Mrs. Cuddy gave birth to the infants in 38 minutes at Chestnut Hill Hospital where her husband, Dr. Vincent D. Cuddy, 29, a native of Wheeling, W. Va., was completing a term of duty as a resident.

The first child weighed 4 pounds 4 ounces; the second 3 pounds, 13 ounces; and the third 3 pounds, 3 ounces. The triplets were placed in incubators and a hospital spokesman said they were doing as well as could be expected.

The Cuddys have three other children.

KILLED IN CRASH

PATUXENT, Md. (AP)—Vance Frazier, 21, of Donora, Pa., was killed Monday when his car overturned near the Patuxent Naval Air Station. Frazier, an aviation electronics technician, was stationed at the base.

You see, when I'm building, I'm the first man on the job and the last one to leave. It's harder work than acting."

Parks said he got started in the building business back in 1940, when he came west for an acting job that disappeared. He and other out-of-work friends put up a house in Burbank.

"Sometimes we'd have to walk down the street to see how a carpenter put in windows and other things," he said. But they got it built, and Parks made $133 on the deal.

Building business was side-tracked for his movie career, which flourished and waned. When the drought set in, he and partner Lewis Mandell began building apartment houses.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

PEP TALK. If you are in a slump—feeling heavy and logy—chalk it up as a normal reaction to holiday festivities. Don't let it get you down; pull out instead. You can lose those "plum pudding" pounds and gain back your nerve within a week, simply by following this regimen:

1. Be Spartan about your diet for the next week. Pattern your menus on these:

At breakfast take no more than a glass of fruit juice, a boiled egg, one slice of lightly buttered toast and coffee. Make lunch a cup of consommé, cottage cheese salad, melba toast and tea. Limit dinner to a slice of lean meat, fish or fowl, a portion of green or yellow vegetables, tomato salad, fresh fruit and a hot beverage. Between meals, sip a glass of skim milk or buttermilk.

2. Get some exercise daily. Walk outdoors for 15 minutes. Indoors, lie on the floor and stretch—legs down, arms and head up—for five minutes.

3. Make a point of nine hours of sleep each night. And try to have a few "do-nothing" evenings, wherein you can relax with a book or a hobby.

Get with it! You'll be a new woman with fresh looks and a fresh outlook!

C-D Educational Program Planned

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania officials moved ahead today with plans to launch an educational program later this year to acquaint state adults with the knotty problems of civil defense.

The chief aim of the program will be "to create the nucleus of an informed leadership group to support civil defense policies and practices on all levels," Gov. Lawrence said.

Classes will be provided in personal and family protection, fallout shelter living, emergency sanitation and other problems connected with a nuclear attack.

Lawrence said the state plans to apply for a $50,000 grant from the federal government to finance the program which will be administered by the Department of Public Instruction.

The governor said he hoped the classes could get started sometime in April.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence looked to Washington today for action on his request to the Civil Aeronautics Board to allow direct air service between Pennsylvania and the Toronto-Ontario area of Canada.

"Such transportation facility is vital to the Commonwealth's industrial development program," Lawrence said Monday in a letter urging the board to reconsider its rejection of an application by Allegheny Airlines to provide the service.

'HANGE AID FOR HOMES

HARRISBURG (AP) — For the first time in decades a proposed Pennsylvania budget does not include an itemized accounting of state aid for homes.

Gov. Lawrence's proposed 1962-63 spending program, following a legislative recommendation, instead would provide aid to such institutions on the basis of individuals assigned to them by various programs.

As a result, the homes previously aided directly by the state in a lump appropriation, in the future will get assistance from other subsidy programs, such as public assistance services, reimbursement to counties for care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children, county reimbursements for care of the mentally retarded and services for the aging and Aid appropriated directly to the homes for the 1961-62 fiscal period totals $456,069.

A brief business meeting of the Young Men's Bible Class of Redeemer's Church preceded the Sunday session on Sunday. Election of officers was held with the following results: President, Robert B. Millheim; vice president, Norman J. Hahn; secretary, William E. Warner; treasurer, John W. Hankey; flower committee for 1962, David E. Greason and Norman Hahn. The next regular meeting of the class will be held Wednesday, January 31, at the church.

Meanwhile, the administration forecast appropriations to state-aided community hospitals totaling $13,939,500. That compares to $17,303,125 for the 13-month 1961-62 fiscal period.

The legislature will actually set the allocations for each hospital. An administration aide said the estimated allocation probably would be increased through federal Hill-Burton subsidies and also through the new federal program for medical assistance for needy persons over 65.

William Howard Taft was the first U.S. president to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

Father Shoots 2 Children, Baby Sitter And Self Over Wife's Impending Divorce

SHARON, Pa. (AP)—A father, fearful of losing his two children because his wife planned to divorce him, shot them and a baby sitter to death then took his own life, authorities reported.

Authorities said Fred E. Brown 54, carried out a threat last week, shooting his 10-year-old son, Fred W.; his 8-year-old daughter, Kathryn, and 15-year-old Carol Tregaskes. Then he turned the gun on himself, police said.

The bodies of the four dead were found Monday in a parked car along a road three miles south of nearby West Middlesex by Joe Johnson, of West Middlesex R. 1.

All had been shot in the head except Carol, who had a chest wound. The gun, a .38 caliber revolver, was in Brown's hand.

FILED FOR DIVORCE

Brown, the children and Carol lived in a house along the Youngstown-Hubbard Road north of Youngstown, Ohio. Brown's estranged wife, Vera, had been staying with a friend in Hubbard, Ohio, since she filed suit for divorce seven weeks ago.

Sheriff Robert W. Barnett of Trumbull County, Ohio, said Brown had left a note, saying he would not give up the children and would like to see his wife's face "when she saw the children dead."

Carol, the sheriff said, also left a note that said "I'd rather die than face Vera."

Mrs. Brown told newsmen that her husband phoned Thursday night and again early Friday morning. She said he threatened both times to kill the children. She said Carol also phoned late Thursday and said Brown was going to kill the children.

STARTED SEARCH

Police began a search the following day. Mrs. Brown appealed to her husband through newspapers and radio stations to return the children. She learned of their deaths while at a Youngstown television station, asking that photos of her son and daughter

JFK MAY ASK TAX POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to be seriously considering asking Congress to give the President authority to increase or reduce income tax rates as a hedge against inflation or recession.

The proposal, sources said Monday, may be presented in one of President Kennedy's major messages to Congress this month. Presumably it would be apart from the White House's tax revision program.

Behind the plan is the knowledge that getting tax legislation through Congress is often a drawn-out business. The informants said that by the time a tax bill has been written, put through hearings, amended, passed and signed, a recession could skid into a depression.

Although details were withheld, the plan was said to provide for presidential authority to cut the basic 20 per cent tax rate to possibly 15 per cent for a limited period only—perhaps, for six months—with the cut subject to congressional veto.

be televised.

Brown, a maintenance man for Ohio Edison Co., first married his wife in 1943. They were divorced and remarried in 1955.

Mrs. Brown said Carol had been living with them for about a year and a half.

Coroner Cyril Reinsel of Mercer County listed Brown's death as suicide and the other deaths as homicides.

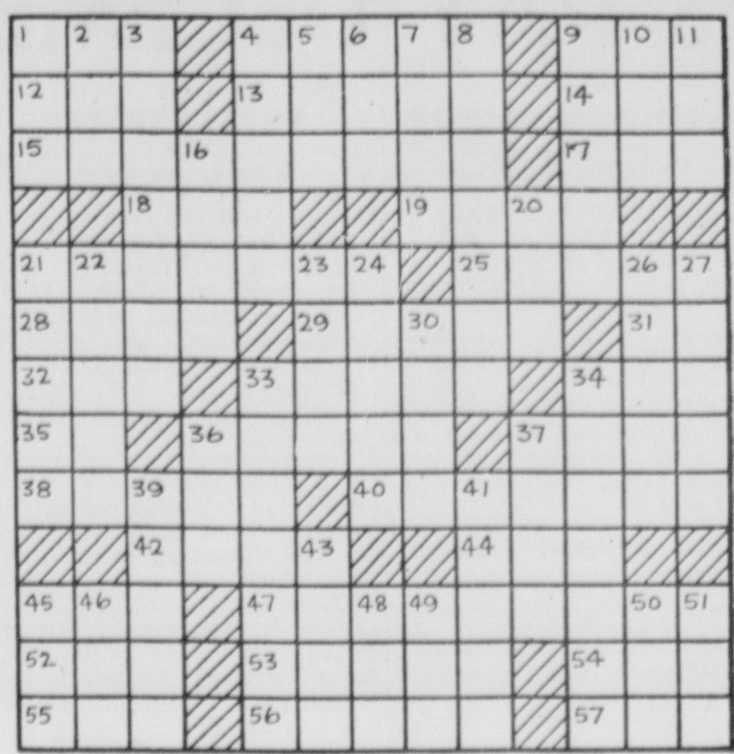

He said the fatal shots apparently had been fired sometime during the night but added that this could not be determined exactly until he learns at what time the car was first seen parked along the road.

The printing industry receives its greatest revenue from advertising and gets a major share of the more than nine billion dollars spent by American business for advertising each year.

AT LEAST 20 FILMS GET HIGH RATINGS IN '61

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was a good year to go to the movies. In recent years a reviewer has had to scrounge to find enough entries for his annual 10 best picture list. In 1961 it was different. At least 20 films had qualities that might warrant a place on the best list.

The accent was on entertainment. This had commercial advantages—and artistic drawbacks. So while there were a score of films that offered pleasure in the theater, there were few that could cause a critic to whoop it up.

FEWER FAMILY FILMS

Also during 1961, there were fewer films for the whole family. But it is refreshing to note that the movies that did eschew sex and savagery were among the biggest moneymakers of the year.

Here are the top 10 as seen by this movie fan:

1. "The Hustler." Downbeat but not depressing, it was studied with fine performances.
 2. "West Side Story." Ballet, opera and juvenile delinquency combined, not always successfully, but the young people performed with verve.
 3. "Guns of Navarone." A preposterous wartime mission that still held the viewer from start to finish.
 4. "Fanny." Josh Logan at his sentimental best, aided by the great old pros, Chevalier and Boyer.
 5. "Hoodlum Priest." The sleeper of the year, filmed with a tight sense of reality.
 6. "One, Two, Three." Spraying jokes with a machine gun, Billy Wilder managed to make the Berlin situation funny—most of the time.
 7. "Majority of One." A good-hearted East-West comedy with Rosalind Russell as the reverse Madame Butterfly.
 8. "El Cid." gorgeously photographed, it offered medieval romance, pure and simple.
 9. "Children's Hour." The tale showed its age, but the acting of Audrey Hepburn and Shirley MacLaine was right up to date.
 10. "Parent Trap." It had faults as a comedy, mainly overlength, but the whole thing was carried along by that winsome twosome, Hayley Mills and Hayley Mills. She played two sisters.
- Here are the runners-up, none of them perfect but all worth seeing by followers of the movie medium: "King of Kings," "Judgment at Nuremberg," "One-eyed Jacks," "Raisin in the Sun," "Flower Drum Song," "Come September," "The Innocents," "101 Dalmatian," "The Young Doctors," "The Pleasure of his Company," "Lover Come Back," "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "Absent-Minded Professor," "Spendor in the Grass."
